ACAPPUCCINO (Singapore) was formed in 2007, initially as a quintet to just sing and perform for leisure. The group is now an a cappella sextet, mainly doing light pop and modern-contemporary ensemble music.

Acap (as some friends call them by) quote being inspired by many groups, such as Rajaton (Finland), The Real Group (Sweden), Try-tone (Japan), the Kings' Singers (UK) and most established collegiate ensembles from the USA. Locally, NANU, The Singers Vocal Ensemble, Vocaluptuous and Key Elements make it to their playlists at times, being proud of their own homeground.

Their tag phrase, just the few of us, is testament with their presentation of songs, voices to create sounds and harmonies in a song paired with their individual personalities. The general feel is friendly and warm – like how good music should be, but not boring.

Happenings, reflections and announcements from the group can be found at <http://acappuccino.wordpress.com>. Group updates can also be found on Facebook.

The Group

As a sextet, Acappuccino's range and sound is fortified to be versatile for most songs that they perform.

All in the group have sung together before in a choral setting and share the passion for singing, thus with the formation of the group, the sound is also fluid and uniform for easy listening.

Occasionally in time, Acap invites guest singers to perform in other configurations besides just in a sextet.
